

DEATHS OF FELLOWS OF THE ACADEMY

QUINLAN, FRANCIS JOSEPH, M.D., M.A., LL.D., Amawalk, New York; graduated in medicine from the College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1878; elected a Fellow of the Academy June 6, 1889; died July 24, 1936. Dr. Quinlan was consulting otolaryngologist to the New York Foundling Hospital.

SYNNOTT, MARTIN JOHN, M.D., 37 Warren Place, Montclair, New Jersey, graduated in medicine from the College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1894; elected a Fellow of the Academy January 3, 1901; died July 15, 1936. Dr. Synnott was a member of the County and State Medical Societies of New York and New Jersey, and a Fellow of the American College of Physicians and the American Medical Association. He had been director of the gastroenterological and proctological service at the Midtown Hospital.

